HOMETOWN BOY MAKES GOOD

Tom Landreth, world renowned artist and member of Rabun Trout Unlimited, has been selected by DNR as an artist in residence. Tom will spend two weeks on Ossabaw Island where he will create at least one original work of art. Congratulations Tom and thanks..... somebody has got to do it.

ELECTION TIME

I have appointed a nominating committee to select a slate of candidates for chapter officers to be voted on by our chapter at the November meeting. Doug Adams, Tom Landreth, Travis Barnes and I will form that committee. If you have suggestions please contact one of us.

News from the President.....

Charlie Breithaupt

Yeah, who would believe it. We set up camp in the rain, cooked dinner in the rain, ate under a tarp and some even spent the night there. Then the next morning more folks showed up, including our faithful Forest Service guys, Andy and Doug, along with a few from other chapters. And the rain continued!!

In spite of the weather we worked hard on Moccasin Creek and improved some structures we had built several years ago. Finally we all decided we had enjoyed all we could stand so we headed for Kelly's tarp and a hot lunch.

So the question is... why were we there?

- A) none of us has a life
- B) we're really dedicated
- C) we're tougher than we are smart
- D) all of the above

I'd like to think the answer is "B". The Rabun Chapter gets a lot done and has a good time doing it. Thanks once again to Bill Kelly for feeding everyone. Pheasant under glass ain't nearly as good as steak under a tarp.

LAST MEETING...

Thanks to Josh Seehorn and Andy Gaston for their report on the work of the summer interns. Also, thanks to "Doc" Burken for some helpful medical information and a slide show that will make you want to stay out of the sun and... keep your hands in your pockets!!

LET'S GO FISHIN'...

Remember that the delayed harvest is now open in North Carolina and will open in Georgia on November 1st.

See all you folks from Travis Barnes' church.... He really did work! Thanks for the loan of the camera Travis-Charlie's dry box wasn't....
